

Footpaths and bridleways in the Yorkshire Dales National Park that have been used by motor vehicles but because of the NERC Act have no public motor vehicular rights

Apart, possibly, from some very rare exceptions, the NERC Act makes it illegal to ride a motorcycle or other motor vehicle on anything which is recorded on the Definitive Map as a Bridleway or Footpath (up to date OS maps are the readily available nearest indication of that). This also includes a number of routes that are recorded on both the definitive map and the 'list of streets' and are sometimes known as dual status routes

The table below gives details of footpaths and bridleways and 'dual status' routes that were used by motor vehicles prior to the NERC Act in the belief that they might have motor vehicular rights. The NERC Act extinguishes the possibility of motor vehicular rights on these footpaths and bridleways.
